

UPPER SHORE GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF MARYLAND

Proudly Presents:

Using Church, Cemetery Records and Other Sources To Trace Our Shared Histories

Featuring Special Guest Speaker:

Elinor Thompson

Genealogist, Historian, Author

Elinor Thompson is a genealogist, historian and author; and has been preserving, archiving and documenting both black and white historical church and cemetery records for over 30 years. She is a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and has traced her family to Kent and Queen Anne's counties, as well as tracing one ancestral line to 1812 in Dorchester County. Mrs. Thompson will discuss how to preserve our history through the use of church and cemetery records; the importance of tracing African American history; and how to document our shared histories. She will also discuss the techniques of putting together a family history book for your next family reunion and more. For beginners to advanced.

Saturday, May 7, 2016

10:00 a.m.— 1:00 p.m.

Hosted by the Upper Shore Genealogical Society of Maryland

The presentation will be held at the Talbot County Free Library—Easton
100 West Dover Street
Easton, Maryland 21601

Open to the Public

Light Refreshments

Reservations Required

Historical Exhibits

Door Prizes

Donation $10.00

For more information contact: Jean Kelly (410)482-8072

Or email Nathalie Thomas usgsmd@yahoo.com

Upper Shore Genealogical Society of Maryland

Serving Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties

P.O. Box 275, Easton, Maryland 21601—www.usgsmd.org—usgsmd@yahoo.com

Tickets must be reserved by April 20, 2016.

Register online: usgsmd.org or by mail:

Upper Shore Genealogical Society Of Maryland, P.O. Box 275, Easton, Maryland 21601

Name: _____

Contact Phone: _____ Email: _____

Address: _____

Thank you for your support.